JonesTrading Prime Services offers hedge fund firms a suite of capabilities that frees managers' time and energy so they can build their franchises and provide their investors with the institutional grade capabilities that are expected in today's competitive performance environment.

By design, our client service model is lean, with fewer points of contact but with the coverage that clients expect. Clients gain rapid and efficient reporting and operational support. We support our clients through the entire trade - including integration to your OMS/EMS, allocation to sub-accounts, assistance with breaks, and other middle office functions. We also offer fully customizable commission management services.

JonesTrading Prime Services offers a comprehensive range of securities services including: custody; securities financing; cap intro; transition management; and trading - all across a range of global instruments. The firm employs both relationships and leading edge technology in addressing client needs.

"We are grateful for this recognition by our industry peers. It reflects our daily commitment to client service by my colleagues at JonesTrading as well as the confidence and trust our clients have placed in us."
